RE: Development of a Theory of Implementation and Integration: Normalization Process Theory (resubmission, May, et al)

I have read the re-submission and accompanying cover letter with interest. The authors have addressed my remarks and their revisions and attention to each of the reviewers has I believe made the manuscript both more accessible and clearer. I am satisfied with the revisions and look forward to its appearance in print. I believe this makes an important contribution to implementation science theory.

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field
