Title: Riding the Knowledge Translation Roundabout: Lessons learned from the Canadian Institutes of Health Research Summer Institute in Knowledge Translation

Version: 4 Date: 23 April 2009

Reviewer: Heather Buchan

Reviewer's report:

The next iteration of this document provides a clearer description of the aims of the course and of the application process and criteria for selecting the applicants. This makes the target audience much clearer.

Discretionary revisions

Some more description of the small group task the authors were given, illustrating how the content and process of undertaking the task contributed to the lessons learned would add to the interest of the paper, and would mean that it was more likely to be recommended to, read and discussed by others undertaking or considering similar courses.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.

Declaration of competing interests:

No competing financial interests. I have been responsible for funding, designing and delivering knowledge translation programs to Australian clinicians.
